

Sock Race

All riders will start mounted on their horses behind the starting line. Riders will then race down to the far end of the arena, dismount and grab one of the tube socks. They will then put the sock on one of their horses feet and lead tor ride hem back to the starting line. First person accross the line with the sock still on wins. If a sock is lost they rider can stop and replace it. If they cross the finishline without a sock they will be disqualified.

Book Race

This is a timed event. Riders will start behind the starting line. The announcer will call out a page number. They will then run to the far end of the arena where a book will be placed on a barrel, they will find the page number that was called out, rip out the page and ride or lead back to the starting line. The gate attendant will confirm it is the correct page. Incorrect pages will be disqualified.
